  1. One of the questions which all applying for the new identity documents are required to answer included particulars of previous activity and membership in underground organizations during the German occupation.
  - 2. Though handed back their registration of domicile cards and all attached documents, applicants admitting membership in such organizations did not receive the receipt confirming the fact that they had answered the questionnaire. Instead they received orders to leave the frontier zone, being allowed to settle anywhere they chose provided the locality chosen was at least 150 km. from the coast. However, no date was given for fulfillment of the order. Out of approximately 400 families who received this order in the Gdynia and Gdansk districts, 40 came from the city of Gdynia alone.
  - 3. Summer visitors are advised against going to Hel peninsula which is strongly guarded because of the fortification works in progress. Everyone who commits a slight involuntary infringement of the prohibited zone is arrested.
